G30S / PKI is an acronym for Gerakan 30 September, a movement and political upheaval in Indonesia by the Communist Party of Indonesia (PKI). It was caused by the dissatisfaction of the broad masses of the Indonesian people with poverty, corruption and human rights violations due to Sukarno's policies. The USSR provided assistance to Indonesia in 1949. In 1961, a civil war began in the state. After its completion, the majority in the UN was given to the United States. In 1959, the parliament was also restored. With the onset of the economic crisis in the Indonesian island states (1971), government unrest began in the country, which escalated into armed clashes, accompanied by loss of life. This was facilitated by a series of government failures at the national and international level. On April 6, 1972, the pro-American National Advisory Council (NCAC) proclaimed the country a republic. Parliament was dissolved. The post of the President of the country was established on the basis of the reform of the electoral law. The electoral bloc of communists, socialists and reformers and the Democratic Republican Party participated in the elections. On June 12, 1972, a one-party presidential regime was established, after which taxes were raised, pensions and benefits were abolished. On October 27, 1973, President Suharto declared himself president for life. On August 18, 1975, unrest broke out in Jakarta. The reason was the decision of Sukhartno to send troops to the metropolitan agglomeration. On December 10, parliamentary elections were held, and on December 29, 1975, the composition of the National Assembly was approved. Executive power was transferred to the president, and Suhartos was appointed prime minister. On December 30, Suchart and the government were demanded to hold new parliamentary elections. In January 1977, a peace treaty was concluded between Suchart and the United National Democratic Party. In the spring of 1978, US-oriented President Sukarnoputri was elected in the country. By that time, the United States refused to take part in the negotiation process and stopped sending military personnel to Indonesia. Civil aggression against the army began in the country, up to 50,000 armed fighters were sent to suppress it. By the mid-1980s, the country's government had been overthrown. On March 9, 1982, the newly formed government was headed by Suhartoburi. On October 31, 1982, a military coup took place in Yogyakarta, organized by Brigadier General Suharman Noe. On December 26, the army opened fire on demonstrators and members of the National People's Army, killing 34 people, while
